

Library Restrictions – March 17, 2020

As of now the Tilden Public Library is open, however we are implementing the following restrictions:

First, we ask that parents do not send their children to the library as an alternative to no school as we will have to ask them to leave. We are asking that people come to the library to conduct library business only. At this time, children under the age of 17 will not be allowed to use the computer lab or WiFi within the library without a parent or guardian in attendance.

We are encouraging people to utilize our online catalog, which can be found on our website at www.tildenlibrary.org and click onto the Online Catalog link at the top. This catalog contains every title for books and DVD's that we have in the library. When you find the item you are searching for, it will show you if it is available or not. For anyone who wants to call in advance, we will be happy to pull the items for you, check them out and have them ready for pickup.

If we need to we will control how many visitors are in the library at one time for those who wish to come in to the library to search for and check out material. We are still available for services such as copies, scans and faxes.

We will have a few tables set up and spaced apart in the Lied auditorium for those (adults) who need to access Wifi on their own devices. The computer lab is still available however, we may limit the capacity and your time.

We will be waiving all fines at this time but we do ask that you make every attempt to return your items on time. Our drop off box is available at the front of the building 24/7.

Please call us at 402-368-5306 if there is anything we can help you with. We hope you understand that this is for the benefit of both our staff and the public and because this situation seems to change daily, we will keep you posted regarding any updates with our procedures.

Thank you,
Cindy Simeon, Library Director
